Musical Structure and Analysis

Rutter's arrangement utilizes a predominantly homophonic texture, meaning that the melody is primarily supported by chords. However, he cleverly incorporates moments of polyphony, particularly in the sections where the text expresses a greater intensity of emotion. This interplay between homophonic and polyphonic textures creates a dynamic and engaging musical experience. The piece is structured in several distinct sections, each reflecting different aspects of Shakespeare's text. For example, the opening lines, "Blow, blow, thou winter wind," are set with a relatively simple, repetitive melody that establishes a mood of bleakness and exposure to the elements.

Section	Texture	Key	Mood	Tempo
Verse 1	Homophonic	C Minor	Bleak, introspective	Andante moderato
Verse 2	Polyphonic	G Major (brief)	Hopeful, reflective	Moderato
Verse 3	Homophonic	C Minor	Somber, resigned	Andante moderato
Conclusion	Homophonic	C Minor	Peaceful, reflective	Adagio

The tonal language remains largely within the key of C minor, reinforcing the prevailing melancholic tone. However, the brief modulation to G major in Verse 2 provides a moment of fleeting optimism before returning to the dominant C minor, mirroring the ebb and flow of emotions present in the text.

And when it comes to capturing the essence of winter, his setting of Shakespeare's iconic poem, 'Blow, Blow Thou Winter Wind,' stands out as a true choral gem. Let's dive deep into the world of John Rutter's 'Blow, Blow Thou Winter Wind' and explore what makes it such a special addition to the choral repertoire.

The Bard's Breath in Rutter's Hands: A Poetic Foundation

At its heart, Rutter's 'Blow, Blow Thou Winter Wind' is a masterful musical interpretation of one of William Shakespeare's most famous songs, found in the play As You Like It. The original lyrics paint a vivid picture of winter's harshness but ultimately conclude with a powerful message of human connection and love as being far more resilient than the season's chill. Shakespeare's lines are deceptively simple, yet profound: > Blow, blow thou winter wind, > Thou art not so unkind > As man's ingratitude; > Thy tooth is not so keen, > Because thou art not seen, > Although thy breath be rude. > > Freeze, freeze thou bitter sky, > That dost not bite so nigh > By reason of unkindness; > Thy sting is not so sharp, > Because thou art not sharp, > But most, for want of kindness; > > Thou dost e'en what thou wilt, > Undo, than what is built, > Hardly, thy wound is deep: > Thou dost e'en what thou wilt, > Undo, than what is built, > Hardly, thy wound is deep: > Thou dost e'en what thou wilt, > Undo, than what is built, > Hardly, thy wound is deep: Shakespeare, a master of human emotion, contrasts the external harshness of winter with the often greater cruelty found in human behavior. He highlights that while the wind can bite and the sky can freeze, the pain inflicted by a lack of kindness and gratitude from fellow humans is far more piercing and lasting. It's a timeless observation that, when set to music, can stir deep emotions.

John Rutter: A Choral Maestro

Before we explore the musical intricacies of the piece, it's essential to understand the composer himself. John Rutter, born in 1945, is one of the most prolific and beloved composers of choral music today. His work is characterized by its accessible melodies, rich harmonies, and an innate understanding of vocal writing. Rutter's music often possesses a joyous and uplifting quality, making it a favorite for both performers and audiences. He has a remarkable gift for taking familiar texts, whether sacred or secular, and imbuing them with a fresh and vibrant musical life. His arrangements and original compositions are staples in churches, schools, and concert halls worldwide. From his popular 'Gloria' to his 'Magnificat,' Rutter's influence on contemporary choral music is undeniable. His ability to create music that is both technically engaging and emotionally resonant is a hallmark of his genius.

Deconstructing the Musical Magic: Rutter's 'Blow, Blow Thou

Winter Wind'

Rutter's setting of 'Blow, Blow Thou Winter Wind' is a testament to his skill in translating poetic sentiment into musical expression. He typically arranges this piece for SATB choir (Soprano, Alto, Tenor, Bass) and piano accompaniment, though various orchestrations and arrangements exist.

The Opening: A Gust of Winter's Might

The piece opens with a powerful and energetic flourish, immediately evoking the force of the winter wind. The choir enters with strong, unified chords, often featuring a sense of urgency and movement. The piano accompaniment mirrors this with driving rhythms and often uses a higher register to create a sense of biting cold. This opening section effectively captures the 'rude breath' of the wind, setting the stage for the contrast that is to follow.

The Contrast: Human Ingratitude and Unkindness

As the text shifts to the comparison with human unkindness, Rutter masterfully alters the musical mood. The music often becomes more lyrical, perhaps a touch more melancholic, but crucially, it retains a sense of underlying strength. He uses beautiful harmonic progressions and melodic lines to convey the sorrow and disappointment associated with betrayal or a lack of warmth from others. The 'tooth' of the wind is described as 'not so keen' when compared to the 'ingratitude' of man, and Rutter's music reflects this subtle shift in focus from external elements to internal human experience.

The 'Freeze, Freeze Thou Bitter Sky' Section: A Starker Reality

The second verse, with its imagery of a 'bitter sky' and 'nigh' bites, often sees a return to a more robust and perhaps slightly more dissonant musical language, reflecting the biting cold. However, Rutter, ever the optimist in his musical outlook, ensures that even in these starker moments, there's a sense of resilience. The harmonies, while perhaps more complex, still serve to underscore the emotional weight of the text rather than being overly jarring. The emphasis remains on the comparative lack of sting when contrasted with human unkindness.

The Climax and Resolution: The Triumph of Love

The poem, and subsequently Rutter's setting, moves towards a powerful conclusion. The repetition of lines like "Thou dost e'en what thou wilt" allows for building dramatic intensity. Rutter expertly guides the choir through a crescendo, building to a glorious climax. This climax isn't necessarily about overcoming the winter wind, but rather about acknowledging its power while asserting the superior and more enduring power of love and human connection. The final chords are often full, resonant, and imbued with a sense of hopeful resolution. The "lack of kindness" is presented as the true villain, and the music ultimately celebrates the resilience of the human spirit in the face of such hardships, whether natural or interpersonal.

The Bard's Bite: Unpacking Shakespeare's Original Text

"Blow, Blow Thou Winter Wind" is famously found in Act II, Scene II of Shakespeare's comedy, As You Like It. The song is sung by the banished Duke Senior, who has found refuge in the Forest of Arden. Despite the biting cold and the stark realities of his exile, the Duke finds solace in the natural world and, crucially, in the companionship of his loyal followers. The poem is a powerful statement on resilience and the comparative pain of human ingratitude versus the impersonal cruelty of nature.

A Contrast of Hardships

Shakespeare masterfully juxtaposes the external discomfort of winter with the deeper, more wounding pain of betrayal. The wind may bite, the frost may sting, but these are fleeting physical discomforts.

The true suffering, according to the Duke, comes from the unthankful heart and the false friend. This thematic core of the poem is what makes it so relatable and timeless. It speaks to the universal human experience of facing adversity, both external and internal.

Key Themes Explored

The central themes are clear: the indifference of nature, the resilience of the human spirit, and the profound sorrow caused by human disloyalty. The Duke's perspective is one of philosophical acceptance, finding a certain liberation in the stripping away of societal artifice. Nature, in its rawest form, is honest and uncomplicated. It is human relationships, with their complexities and potential for hurt, that pose the greater challenge.

John Rutter's Choral Tapestry: Weaving Words into Music

John Rutter, a composer renowned for his lyrical melodies, accessible harmonies, and deeply empathetic settings of texts, found fertile ground in Shakespeare's poem. His choral works are known for their warmth, optimism, and their ability to engage both amateur and professional singers. "Blow, Blow Thou Winter Wind" is a prime example of his artistry, demonstrating his skill in capturing the poem's emotional arc and translating its imagery into vibrant musical phrases.

Compositional Style and Techniques

Rutter's setting is typically written for SATB choir and piano accompaniment, although orchestral arrangements are also common. His approach is characterized by:

1. Melodic Clarity: Rutter's melodies are often singable and memorable, drawing the listener in with their immediate appeal.
2. Harmonic Richness: While accessible, his harmonies are sophisticated, adding layers of emotional resonance to the text. He often employs lush chords and effective voice leading.
3. Text Painting: Rutter is a master of text painting, using musical devices to evoke the literal meaning of the words. For example, sharp, biting harmonies might underscore the "biting" wind, while soaring lines can represent the freedom found in nature.
4. Dynamic Contrasts: The piece moves through a range of dynamics, mirroring the shifts in the poem's emotional intensity.
5. Accessible Structure: Rutter's arrangements, while musically engaging, are generally well-structured and manageable for choirs of varying abilities.

The Musical Depiction of Winter's Chill and Human Warmth

From the opening "Blow, blow, thou winter wind," Rutter immediately establishes a sense of briskness and a touch of melancholy. The melodic lines are often punctuated, reflecting the sharp bite of the wind. However, as the poem shifts to the more personal lament of human betrayal, the music often becomes more lyrical and expressive, allowing the singers to convey the pain and sadness. The sections that speak of enduring friendship and finding solace in nature tend to feature warmer harmonies and a more flowing melodic contour, creating a sense of comforting resolve.

Emotional Resonance: From Nature's Fury to the Heart's Pain

The true power of Rutter's "Blow, Blow Thou Winter Wind" lies in its ability to evoke a wide spectrum of emotions. It is a piece that speaks to both the grander forces of nature and the intimate struggles of the human heart.

The 'Unthankful' Heart: A Universal Lament

The shift in the poem from the external hardships of winter to the internal suffering caused by ingratitude is a moment of profound emotional weight. Rutter captures this transition beautifully, often using a more somber harmonic palette or a poignant melodic turn to emphasize the pain of betrayal. The idea of the "unthankful" person is a universal one, and Rutter's music allows singers and listeners to connect with this deep-seated human disappointment.

Finding Solace in Simplicity

Conversely, the poem also offers a message of resilience and finding contentment in simpler truths. The Duke's realization that nature's bite is preferable to the sting of disloyalty is a moment of clarity and peace. Rutter's music often reflects this by moving towards more consonant harmonies and a sense of hopeful resolution, particularly in the latter sections of the piece. It's a reminder that even in the face of hardship, there can be a profound sense of inner peace and gratitude.
