

How to dress for a second interview

Navigating the Second Interview: Dressing for Success

The first interview is often a critical first impression. However, the second interview, while building upon the initial interaction, presents a unique opportunity to further showcase suitability and solidify candidacy. This dissects the crucial role of attire in a subsequent interview, delving into the nuanced considerations beyond mere "suit and tie" norms. It explores how mindful dressing transcends simple aesthetics to project confidence, professionalism, and cultural sensitivity, ultimately enhancing the candidate's perceived value to the organization.

Understanding the Shifting Landscape of Interview Attire

Historically, a "suit" has been the default choice for job interviews. However, contemporary workplaces embrace a broader spectrum of professional attire, influenced by industry, company culture, and even individual role requirements. The rise of remote work and hybrid models has subtly altered the perception of "professional" dressing. While a suit might still be appropriate for certain industries (e.g., finance, law), others have embraced more casual, yet still polished, styles. Observing and learning about the dress code of the specific company and position is paramount. Data points: A survey conducted by [insert survey name, source, and brief findings - e.g., a survey by SHRM indicates a growing acceptance of business casual attire in various sectors]. This data suggests that adaptability and sensitivity to context are crucial aspects of modern interview dressing.

Deconstructing the Elements of Effective Second Interview Attire

Beyond the overarching trend of flexibility, specific elements of attire deserve detailed attention.

1. The Suit: A Timeless Staple

While not universally required, a well-tailored suit remains a powerful symbol of professionalism in many sectors. The key lies in choosing a suit that aligns with the overall company culture and the specific role. Consider:

- Color: Neutral colors like navy, gray, or black are generally safe bets.
- Fit: A well-fitting suit accentuates the wearer's physique and projects confidence. Avoid oversized or too-tight garments.
- Fabric: High-quality fabrics (wool, linen) convey attention to detail and reinforce a professional image.

2. Shirts and Tops: Ensuring a Polished Look

The choice of shirts and tops significantly influences the overall presentation.

- Shirts: A crisp, clean, and well-ironed shirt (dress shirt or button-down) paired with a suit is essential. Avoid loud patterns or overly casual designs.
- Tops: For business-casual settings, polished blouses, sweaters, or knit tops paired with tailored trousers or skirts are suitable options.

3. Bottoms: Tailoring for Confidence

Suitable bottoms offer a strong foundation for the complete interview ensemble.

- Pants: Tailored pants, such as dress pants or chinos, maintain a professional appearance. Ensure they fit well and are well-maintained.
- Skirts: If appropriate for the role and company culture, a knee-length or slightly below-knee skirt can look professional, especially when combined with a tailored blazer or blouse.

4. Accessories: Subtle Touches of Refinement

Accessories add a subtle touch of refinement to the ensemble but should never overwhelm the attire. • Shoes: Polished leather shoes (oxfords, loafers, or heels) project a professional and sophisticated image. Avoid overly casual footwear. • Jewelry: Limit jewelry to one or two subtle pieces that do not distract from the overall professional look. • Bags: A professional tote or portfolio provides practical space for essentials while maintaining a professional image.

5. Considering Cultural Nuances

Recognizing cultural sensitivities is crucial for projecting professionalism. • Cultural norms: Research the specific company culture and country's cultural norms surrounding attire. • Industry standards: Some industries have established dress code protocols. Research within the specific sector.

Mastering the Second Interview: How to Dress for Success (and Impress Again!)

You did it! You've landed a second interview. That's fantastic news and a testament to your skills, experience, and the positive impression you made. Now, the pressure might feel even higher. You've already gone through the initial screening, and this is your chance to really solidify your candidacy and show them you're the perfect fit. While your resume and interview answers are crucial, how you present yourself physically, or your "interview attire," still plays a significant role. So, how do you dress for a second interview to ensure you continue to shine?

The good news is, you've already navigated the first hurdle. This means you likely have a good grasp of the company culture and the general level of formality. However, a second interview often dives deeper into the role, your specific contributions, and might involve meeting with different people or a more senior team. This calls for a slightly more nuanced approach to your wardrobe. Let's break down how to dress for that crucial second interview, ensuring you look professional, confident, and ready to impress.

Understanding the Nuances of Second Interview Attire

The biggest mistake you can make is assuming your first interview outfit will automatically be the best choice for the second. While there's often overlap, a second interview is an opportunity to demonstrate that you're adaptable, understand the company's ethos, and are serious about the role. It's not about reinventing the wheel, but rather about refining your presentation.

Assessing the Company Culture: The Foundation of Your Choice

This is paramount. Did you notice what the interviewers were wearing? What about other employees you saw around the office? Was it a suit-and-tie environment, or were people in business casual?

- 1. Formal Industries (Law, Finance, Government): If your first interview was in a traditionally formal setting, it's generally safe to stick with that level of professionalism, perhaps with a slight upgrade in fabric or tailoring if possible. Think well-fitting suits, crisp shirts, and conservative ties for men; tailored suits, sophisticated dresses, or blouses with skirts/trousers for women.
- 2. Business Casual Environments (Tech, Marketing, Most Corporate Roles): This is where things can get a little more flexible. If you wore a full suit for the first interview and everyone else was in business casual, you might consider dialing it back slightly. For men, this could mean smart trousers or chinos with a blazer and a well-ironed shirt (tie optional, depending on the vibe). For women, a smart blouse with tailored trousers or a skirt, or a sophisticated sheath dress, often paired with a blazer or cardigan, works well.

3. Creative or Startup Settings (Fashion, Arts, Some Tech Startups):

These environments often allow for more personal expression. However, "creative" doesn't mean "sloppy." It means showcasing your personality within a professional framework. This could involve a well-chosen patterned shirt, unique accessories, or stylish but comfortable footwear. The key here is "polished creativity." Think of it as an elevated version of your everyday professional look.

Pro Tip: If you're unsure, it's always better to err on the side of being slightly overdressed than underdressed. You can always remove a jacket, but you can't add one if you don't have it.

The "Next Level" Impression: What the Second Interview Demands

A second interview often signifies a higher level of interest from the employer. They're likely looking for someone who can not only do the job but also fit seamlessly into the team and company. Your attire should reflect this increased commitment and seriousness.

1. Subtle Upgrades: This is where you can subtly elevate your look. If you wore a standard suit, perhaps opt for one in a slightly richer fabric or a more refined color. For women, consider a higher-quality blouse or a more elegant shoe.
2. Focus on Fit and Polish: Regardless of the industry, impeccable fit is non-negotiable. Ensure your clothing is well-tailored, wrinkle-free, and clean. Shoes should be polished, and accessories should be understated and professional. This shows attention to detail, a quality employers highly value.
3. Comfort and Confidence: While looking good is important, feeling comfortable in your chosen attire is equally crucial. If your clothes are constricting or you feel self-conscious, it will show. Choose outfits that allow you to move freely and focus on your conversation.

Practical Dressing Strategies for the Second Interview

Now that you understand the underlying principles, let's get into the nitty-gritty of what to wear. Remember, consistency with your first impression is key, but so is showing you've done your homework.

For Men: Refining the Professional Look

You've made it past the first round, so your core professional attire is likely established. For the second interview, focus on refinement and ensuring every element is polished.

1. The Suit: If a suit is appropriate, ensure it fits perfectly. Consider neutral colors like navy, charcoal grey, or black. A subtle pinstripe or a textured weave can add a touch of sophistication. If you wore a suit last time, ensure it's freshly dry-cleaned and pressed.
2. The Shirt: A crisp, well-ironed dress shirt is essential. White or light blue are classic choices. Ensure there are no stray threads or yellowing around the collar.
3. The Tie: If you wear a tie, choose one that complements your suit and shirt without being too flashy. Silk ties in classic patterns (e.g., a subtle geometric or a muted stripe) are usually a safe bet. Avoid novelty ties or overly bright colors.
4. Footwear: Polished leather dress shoes (oxfords, loafers, or derbies) are a must. Ensure they are in good condition and match your belt.
5. Socks: Always wear dark, plain socks that match your trousers or shoes. No athletic socks!
6. Accessories: A simple watch and minimal jewelry are appropriate. Ensure your belt matches your shoes.
7. Grooming: Impeccable grooming is non-negotiable. A fresh haircut, neatly trimmed facial hair (if applicable), and clean fingernails go a long way.

For Women: Polished Professionalism with a Personal Touch

Women have a wider range of options, but the goal remains the same: to present a polished, confident, and capable image.

1. The Suit/Separates: A well-tailored pantsuit or skirt suit in a neutral color (navy, grey, black) is a timeless choice. Alternatively, you can opt for sophisticated separates: tailored trousers or a knee-length skirt paired with a well-fitting blazer and a professional blouse.
2. The Blouse: Opt for solid colors or subtle, elegant patterns. Silk, satin, or high-quality cotton are good fabric choices. Avoid anything too sheer, low-cut, or overly casual.
3. The Dress: A tailored sheath dress in a neutral color, paired with a blazer or cardigan, is a sophisticated option. Ensure the length is appropriate – around the knee is generally ideal.
4. Footwear: Closed-toe pumps or smart flats in a neutral color are usually the best choice. Ensure they are comfortable and in good condition. Avoid overly high heels or open-toed shoes for most professional settings.
5. Hosiery: Depending on the outfit and the formality of the environment, sheer pantyhose or tights in a neutral shade might be appropriate, especially with a skirt or dress.
6. Accessories: Keep jewelry understated and professional. A classic watch, simple earrings, and a delicate necklace are typically sufficient. A well-organized handbag or briefcase is also essential.
7. Hair and Makeup: Hair should be neat and styled professionally. Makeup should be natural and subtle, enhancing your features without being distracting.

Beyond the Basics: What Else to Consider

Your attire is just one piece of the puzzle. Here are some other crucial elements to ensure your second interview is a success.

The Importance of Grooming and Presentation

We've touched on it, but it bears repeating. Your personal grooming speaks volumes about your attention to detail and your professionalism. Ensure your nails are clean and tidy, your hair is neat, and you practice good hygiene. A subtle, clean scent (not overpowering) is also advisable.

Color Psychology: Making Smart Choices

Colors can subtly influence perception. While sticking to neutrals is generally safest, consider these:

1. Blue: Often associated with trust, stability, and calmness.
2. Grey: Represents neutrality, balance, and sophistication.
3. Black: Can convey authority and elegance, but can also be perceived as too severe in some contexts.
4. White/Cream: Signifies clarity and honesty.
5. Avoid: Overly bright or distracting colors, as they can pull focus away from your qualifications.

The "Comfort Factor" – Don't Underestimate It

As mentioned earlier, if you're fidgeting with your clothes or feeling uncomfortable, it will detract from your confidence. Do a "test run" of your outfit beforehand. Sit down, stand up, walk around. Ensure it allows for natural movement and doesn't require constant adjustment.

What to Carry: Professional Essentials

Your bag or briefcase should be organized and professional. Inside, you'll want:

1. Extra copies of your resume (even if they said they have it).
2. A notepad and pen for taking notes.
3. A list of questions you want to ask.
4. Any portfolio pieces or work samples you might need.
5. Water.

When in Doubt: The "Safe Bet" Strategy

If you're genuinely torn about what to wear for your second interview, here's a foolproof strategy:

Option 1: Stick with your first interview outfit, but elevate it. If you wore a suit, make sure it's impeccably clean and pressed. If you wore business casual, ensure your pieces are the best quality you own and are perfectly presented.

Option 2: Aim for one step more formal than your first interview. If you wore business casual, consider adding a blazer or a more structured piece. If you wore a full suit, ensure it's a high-quality one and perfectly tailored.

Option 3: Ask the hiring manager or HR contact. While it might feel awkward, a polite inquiry like, "I'm looking forward to my second interview on [date]. To ensure I'm dressed appropriately, could you give me a sense of the typical dress code for meetings at this stage?" is perfectly acceptable and shows you're thoughtful.

In Conclusion: Dressing for Confidence and Competence

Your second interview is your chance to shine brighter and demonstrate why you're the ideal candidate. While your skills and experience are the core of your application, your professional attire plays a supporting role, helping you project confidence, attention to detail, and a genuine understanding of the company's culture. By carefully considering the company's environment, opting for well-fitting and polished pieces, and paying attention to grooming, you can ensure your wardrobe works in your favor, allowing you to focus on what truly matters: making a compelling case for why you should join their team. Good luck – you've got this!

Dressing for a second interview is more than just a fashion choice—it's a strategic move that reflects professionalism, confidence, and preparation. When stepping back into that interview room after an initial session, your appearance becomes a silent signal of your commitment and readiness to succeed.

Thoughtful dressing not only helps you stand out in a competitive field but also aligns your external presence with the seriousness of the opportunity ahead.

Understanding the deeper purpose behind second-interview attire is essential.

While the first interview often serves as a general screen, the second is typically a deeper dive—where hiring managers evaluate cultural fit, communication style, and whether you project the qualities they seek. Your outfit plays a pivotal role in shaping that perception. It's not about turning into someone else, but about presenting a version of yourself that feels polished, self-aware, and fully engaged. Selecting the right look begins with recognizing the industry's unspoken expectations. In corporate settings, a tailored blazer paired with neutral trousers or a sleek skirt conveys authority and discipline. Opt for well-fitted pieces in classic colors like navy, charcoal, or black—colors that project stability and trust. Avoid bold patterns or overly flashy details that might distract from your message. Instead, let subtle sophistication speak for itself, reflecting both competence and respect for the process. Even in more creative or tech-driven industries, maintaining a polished aesthetic remains key. A crisp button-down shirt layered under a professional coat, or a well-structured blazer over a tailored top, communicates readiness and attention to detail. Accessories should be minimal—think a simple watch, understated jewelry, or a refined belt—serving to enhance rather than dominate your presence. The goal is to appear approachable yet put-together, someone who understands context without overshadowing the conversation. Beyond immediate impact, dressing appropriately for a second interview builds lasting professional impressions. It signals that you value the role and are serious about contributing meaningfully.

This mindset extends beyond the interview space; it shapes how you carry yourself in follow-up communications, networking events, and even internal presentations. Over time, consistent presentation reinforces your personal brand, making you more memorable and credible in the eyes of recruiters and hiring teams. Looking ahead, the future of professional dressing continues to evolve—blending tradition with personal expression. While formality remains important, there's growing acceptance of style that reflects individuality, as long as it aligns with the company's culture. This shift invites candidates to thoughtfully integrate authenticity into their look, balancing confidence with comfort. Whether you opt for classic elegance or a modern twist, the core principle remains: how you present yourself sends a powerful message about who you are and what you bring to the table. Ultimately, dressing for a second interview is an opportunity to reinforce your professionalism, boost your confidence, and leave a lasting impression. It's not about perfection, but about presentation—showing up ready, respectful, and genuinely invested in the next step of your career journey.

Nail Your Second Interview: Mastering the Art of Dressing for Success

Congratulations! You've aced the initial screening and impressed your potential employer enough to warrant a second interview. This is a significant step, a testament to your skills and potential. But with this exciting progression comes a new set of considerations, chief among them: what to wear. The second interview often delves deeper, testing your cultural fit, problem-solving abilities, and whether you truly align with the company's long-term vision. Your attire, therefore, needs to reflect not just professionalism, but also a thoughtful understanding of the company and the evolving nature of your candidacy.

While the first interview might have focused on making a strong initial impression, the second interview is about solidifying that impression and demonstrating a deeper connection. This means your outfit should go beyond the standard interview attire. It needs to convey confidence, adaptability, and a nuanced understanding of the company's environment. In this detailed guide, we'll break down how to dress for a second interview, ensuring you look and feel your absolute best, ready to secure that coveted offer.

Understanding the Nuance: Why Dressing for a Second Interview is Different

The fundamental difference lies in the objective of the second interview. It's no longer about introducing yourself; it's about confirming your suitability. You've already established that you possess the core qualifications. Now, the interviewers are looking to see how you'll fit into their team dynamics, your strategic thinking, and your potential to grow within the organization. This often translates to a more relaxed, yet still polished, approach to dressing. The goal is to appear approachable, collaborative, and invested, rather than just a formal applicant.

Think of it as a subtle shift from "applicant" to "potential colleague." Your attire should mirror this evolution. While a full suit might have been appropriate for the first meeting, the second interview might call for something slightly less rigid, allowing your personality to shine through more authentically. This isn't a license to become overly casual, however. The key is to strike a balance that communicates respect for the process while also showcasing your comfort level and understanding of the workplace culture.

Research is Your Most Powerful Outfit Accessory

Before you even consider opening your wardrobe, the most crucial step is to conduct thorough research. The company culture is your primary guide. Is it a formal corporate environment, a laid-back tech startup, a creative agency, or a non-profit organization? The answer to this question will dictate the appropriate level of formality for your second interview attire. Look for clues on their website, social media profiles (especially LinkedIn), and even in recent press releases.

Decoding Company Culture: What to Look For

1. Website "About Us" or "Careers" Page: Often, companies showcase their office environment and employee interactions here.

2. LinkedIn: Observe the attire of employees in similar roles or departments. Look at photos from company events.
3. Industry Norms: Different industries have different unspoken dress codes. A law firm will have different expectations than a design studio.
4. Previous Interviews: Did the first interview provide any hints about the general office vibe?

Remember, even within a company, departments can have slightly different dress codes. If possible, try to gather specific information about the team you'll be interviewing with. This level of detail shows initiative and a genuine desire to understand their world.

Adapting Your First Interview Outfit: The Smart Approach

You likely put significant thought into your first interview outfit. For the second interview, you don't necessarily need a completely new ensemble. Instead, consider how you can adapt your previous choices to reflect the increased familiarity and potential for a more relaxed atmosphere.

For Men: Refining the Professional Look

The Suit: To Wear or Not to Wear?

If your first interview was a full suit, and the company culture leans formal, you might consider wearing the suit again, but perhaps with a subtle variation. A different tie, a lighter-colored shirt, or even a blazer and slacks combination can signal a slight shift. If the company culture is less formal, a well-fitting blazer with tailored trousers and a crisp dress shirt (tie optional, depending on context) is often the sweet spot. Ensure your blazer and trousers are complementary in color and fabric. A smart business-casual look can project confidence and approachability.

Shirt and Tie Choices: Sophistication with Personality

A well-ironed, solid-colored or subtly patterned dress shirt is always a safe bet. For the tie, consider something that reflects your personality while remaining professional. A silk tie with a classic pattern or a color that complements your suit or blazer can add a touch of sophistication. Avoid overly flashy or novelty ties.

Pants and Shoes: Polished and Comfortable

Tailored trousers are essential. Ensure they are clean, pressed, and fit well. For footwear, polished leather dress shoes (oxfords, derbies, or loafers) are the standard. Make sure they are free of scuffs and well-maintained. Consider the color of your shoes – black or dark brown are generally the most versatile.

Accessories: The Finishing Touches

A quality leather belt that matches your shoes is a must. Keep jewelry minimal and understated – a watch is acceptable. Ensure your socks match your trousers and are free of holes.

For Women: Versatility and Modern Professionalism

The Power Suit or Separates: A Matter of Culture

Similar to men, if your industry is formal, a well-tailored suit (skirt or pants) can still be appropriate. However, for many second interviews, a sophisticated business-casual approach is ideal. This could mean a tailored blazer paired with smart trousers or a knee-length skirt, and a polished blouse. A stylish sheath dress with a blazer is another excellent option. The key is to ensure your outfit is cohesive and projects competence.

Blouse and Top Choices: Elegance and Professionalism

Opt for blouses or tops in high-quality fabrics like silk, satin, or fine cotton. Solid colors or subtle prints are generally best. Avoid anything too revealing, sheer, or with overly distracting patterns. A well-fitting shell top or camisole under a blazer can also be appropriate in less formal settings.

Skirts, Pants, and Dresses: Fit is Paramount

If opting for a skirt, ensure it's knee-length or slightly below. Tailored trousers should have a clean, modern silhouette. A well-fitting sheath dress is a classic and always professional choice. The fabric should be substantial and wrinkle-resistant.

Footwear: Comfort Meets Chic

Closed-toe heels (low to medium height) or polished flats are generally appropriate. Ensure your shoes are comfortable enough to walk in confidently and are in excellent condition. Avoid overly high stilettos or casual sandals.

Accessories: Subtle Statements

Jewelry should be kept minimal and tasteful – a simple necklace, stud earrings, or a watch. A structured handbag or portfolio that complements your outfit is essential for carrying your resume and notes.

The "Smart Casual" Conundrum: Navigating the Grey Areas

The term "smart casual" can be ambiguous. For a second interview, it generally means presenting a polished and professional image without the strict formality of a suit. Think of it as elevating your everyday work attire. This might include:

1. A well-fitting blazer (for both men and women)
2. Tailored trousers or smart chinos

3. A button-down shirt or a sophisticated blouse
4. Polished loafers, derbies, or smart flats

Crucially, "smart casual" does NOT mean jeans, t-shirts, sneakers, or revealing clothing. When in doubt, err on the side of being slightly more dressed up. It's always better to be a little overdressed than underdressed.

Beyond the Outfit: Essential Details for a Polished Appearance

Your clothing is only part of the equation. The finer details can significantly impact your overall impression.

Grooming: The Unspoken Interview Rule

Impeccable grooming is non-negotiable. Ensure your hair is neat and tidy, your nails are clean and trimmed, and any facial hair is well-maintained. For women, makeup should be subtle and natural. For men, consider a clean shave or a neatly trimmed beard. The goal is to look put-together and hygienic.

Fragrance: Less is More

If you choose to wear fragrance, opt for something very subtle and light. Strong scents can be off-putting and may trigger allergies in others. It's often best to skip it altogether for an interview.

Bag and Briefcase: Organization and Professionalism

Carry a professional-looking bag or briefcase that can hold your resume, a notepad, and a pen. It should be clean, organized, and in good condition. Avoid overly casual backpacks or worn-out bags.

Technology Etiquette: Silence is Golden

Ensure your phone is silenced and put away before you enter the interview.

Resist the urge to check it during the interview, even during breaks.

The "Day Of" Checklist: Final Preparations

On the day of your second interview, run through this quick checklist:

1. Ironing: Ensure all your chosen garments are perfectly ironed and free of wrinkles.
2. Cleanliness: Double-check for any stains or loose threads.
3. Shoes: Make sure your shoes are polished and presentable.
4. Fit: Try on your entire outfit to confirm it fits comfortably and looks flattering.
5. Test Run: If you've chosen a new outfit combination, consider wearing it for a short period to ensure comfort.

Confidence is Your Best Accessory

Ultimately, the best outfit for a second interview is one that makes you feel confident, comfortable, and capable. When you feel good about how you look, it radiates through your demeanor, your body language, and your ability to articulate your thoughts. Your attire should be a tool that empowers you, allowing you to focus on showcasing your skills, experience, and genuine enthusiasm for the role and the company.

By understanding the subtle shifts in expectations for a second interview, conducting thorough research into company culture, and paying attention to the finer details, you can craft an appearance that perfectly complements your qualifications. This thoughtful approach to dressing will not only make a positive impression but also demonstrate your commitment and professionalism, paving the way for a successful outcome.

Questions & Answers About how to dress for a second interview

No	Question	Answer
1	What's the golden rule for dressing for a second interview?	The golden rule is to elevate your first interview attire. Aim for a more polished and confident look, showing you're serious about the role without being overly formal unless the company culture dictates.
2	Should I wear the exact same outfit as my first interview?	While it's not a strict no-no, it's better to switch it up. Wearing a slightly different, but still professional, outfit shows you've put thought into your appearance again and are making an effort.
3	How can I subtly step up my outfit from the first interview?	Consider adding a blazer if you wore a nice blouse or button-down before, opting for a different color tie or scarf, or choosing slightly dressier shoes. The key is subtle refinement, not a complete overhaul.

4	What if the company culture is very casual? Do I still need to dress up?	Even in casual environments, a second interview calls for a slight step up. Opt for smart casual: well-fitting dark wash jeans or chinos with a polished top, a simple blazer, or clean, stylish sneakers or loafers. Avoid anything too sloppy.
5	Are there specific colors that are better for a second interview?	Neutral colors like navy, grey, black, and white remain strong choices. You can also incorporate subtle pops of color in accessories like a tie, scarf, or blouse to add personality while maintaining professionalism.
6	What about accessories? How do I choose them for a second interview?	Accessories should complement your outfit and be understated. Think a classic watch, minimal jewelry, and a clean, professional bag or briefcase. Avoid anything too flashy or distracting.
7	Do I need to worry about shoes for a second interview?	Absolutely! Your shoes should be clean, polished, and in good repair. For men, this might mean dress shoes or stylish loafers. For women, professional heels, flats, or smart loafers are appropriate. Ensure they are comfortable enough to walk in confidently.
8	How can I make sure my outfit is comfortable as well as professional?	Choose fabrics that breathe well and ensure your clothes fit properly – not too tight, not too loose. Practice sitting and moving in your outfit beforehand to identify any potential discomfort.
9	What's a common mistake to avoid when dressing for a second interview?	A common mistake is either dressing too formally, making you seem out of touch with the company culture, or dressing too casually, suggesting a lack of seriousness. Striking the right balance is crucial.
