The choice of cover model would have signaled the magazine's direction for that month – perhaps a rising star in the modeling world, a familiar face from other adult-oriented media, or someone with a particularly striking physique. The accompanying cover lines would have teased the main features within, highlighting specific photo spreads, interviews, or themed sections. These teasers were crucial for enticing readers to pick up the magazine.

Editorial Photo Spreads: The Heart of the Magazine

The core of "The Leg Show Magazine" was undoubtedly its visual content. The May 2011 issue would have showcased several high-quality photographic spreads. These weren't just random snapshots; they were carefully curated and artfully produced. Expect to see:

1. Themed Shoots: Photographers and stylists would have worked together to create visually engaging scenarios. These could range from elegant studio portraits highlighting the lines and curves of the legs to more lifestyle-oriented settings, perhaps featuring models in beachwear, athletic attire, or even sophisticated evening wear, all with a focus on their lower extremities.

2. Variety of Models: A good issue would offer diversity in its featured models, showcasing different body types, ethnicities, and styles. This ensures broader appeal and caters to a wider range of reader preferences.
3. Artistic Direction: Beyond just showing legs, the photography would likely have aimed for artistic merit. This includes considerations of lighting, composition, posing, and post-production to create visually appealing and often sensual imagery. The emphasis would be on the aesthetic form and how legs can be presented as a subject of beauty.

Interviews and Profiles

To complement the visual feast, the magazine would likely have included interviews or profiles of the featured models. These pieces serve to humanize the individuals and provide a glimpse into their lives, careers, and perspectives. For the May 2011 issue, these interviews might have explored:
